

About EURid

EURid is the non-for-profit organization appointed by the European Commission in 2003 as the registry manager of the .eu top-level domain and its variants in other scripts – .ею (Cyrillic script) and .ευ (Greek script). At EURid, we work with around 700 partners worldwide – accredited registrars – that register domain names for their customers.

Security in the online environment is a crucial topic for us. The key activities in this field include the enforcement of security protocols such as DNSSEC, combating malicious registrations by screening newly registered domain names and following the leading information security standards.

As a knowledgeable and responsible digital community member, we have organized numerous events, workshops, webinars and presentations dedicated to a variety of topics including digital literacy, trust and security in the online environment and the development of technological skills for all ages. We have been part of the codeweek.eu initiative for several years, bringing coding to European youth in a fun and engaging way. Our webinars on cyber security are meant for the general public as well as for the Internet governance sector and our information security courses have been well received in various European universities.

We would like to invite you to visit our website www.eurid.eu to find more information about our activities and to discover the amazing stories of .eu users.

About SAFEonLINE 2023

Art Competition powered by EURid

The aim of the Art competition is to complement EURid's educational and awareness activities in the field of online security in a different way. After two successful editions of the SAFEonLINE Art Competition that took place in 2019 and 2021 in EURid is launching a pan European edition in 2023.

This year, we invited artistic high-school students from across Europe to depict aspects of cybersecurity and Internet safety in a poster. The artists chose from which perspective they approached the theme: cybercrime, increasing trust and confidence, privacy on the Internet, cyberbullying, the future of cyber security, phishing, technical security, information verification or identity theft.

We aimed to activate young artists to react on a topic, which is part of their daily life. The new technology environment is the main platform for self-expression and socializing for the younger generation. While enjoying the benefits of the web, children and teenagers can underestimate its hazards and dangers. By inviting young artists to this competition, we intended to attract students, their parents and teachers – to pay attention to the security challenges of the modern digital world. We were pleased to see that this topic can be approached through art in a very appealing way, and that art is a great way to convey a message and start a discussion on this challenging topic. Many young artists were encouraged and inspired by this challenge, and we are now proud to present their amazing work.
